From October 2004 we start the separation of dispensing medicine for Outpatients at the Hospital Medical Practice.

Medicine for an outpatient will no longer be supplied from the Hospital but should be purchased from outside sources following a new policy issued by the Ministry of Welfare.

You can purchase medicines at a Pharmacy for a prescription, which has been supplied by the public health system, and we recommend that you use one particular Pharmacy or drugstore if you are under the care of several Doctors.

The drugstore keeps your medical data, so you can ask them to check if your repeat prescriptions are dangerous to use with other medicines you are already using.
